

Sustainable Endowments Institute: Sustainability Innovator Awards

1. How to Enter: Completed nomination forms should be sent to awards@endowmentinstitute.org and must be received by October 1, 2007 at 11:59pm Pacific Time.

The nominated school should demonstrate innovative approaches to sustainability in one or more of the following categories: administration; climate change and energy; food and recycling; green building; transportation; endowment transparency; shareholder engagement; investment priorities. You may nominate a school for either a comprehensive sustainability strategy or for a single specific sustainability initiative.

The nomination must include both a detailed background description that gives a compelling argument for the school's inclusion, as well as a summary paragraph that clearly and concisely describes the strategy or initiative. Please briefly review the 2007 College Sustainability Report Card, available at www.endowmentinstitute.org/sustainability, prior to submitting a nomination.

2. Eligibility: The college or university must be located in the United States or Canada and cannot be among the 200 schools already included in the 2008 College Sustainability Report Card. Please see the list of 200 schools below. All campuses within a state system included on the list are ineligible. The individual submitting the nomination may, or may not, have any affiliation with the school.

3. Judging: In judging all categories, the Sustainable Endowments Institute will use the same criteria, including (but not limited to) the following: efficiency/reduction of resource use, educational impact, creativity, uniqueness of solution or adaptability of approach to other schools.

4. Selection of winners: Winners will be notified in October 2007, approximately one week before the release of the 2008 College Sustainability Report Card. Winners will be formally recognized in a special section of the 2008 College Sustainability Report Card.
